

A CONTRIBUTION TO THE STUDY OF SERBIAN CALENDAR EPIC, WITH SPECIAL EMPHASIS ON THE SONG "LAST NIGHT SUN"

Epic calendric poem "Last night the Sun", recorded a hundred years ago in the village Svojnovo (Temnić, now municipalities Paraćin), was found in the legacy to SASA of teachers and researcher of the past Stanoja Mijatović, and published about ten years ago, served as an occasion to draw once again the attention of the scientific community to the rich calendric experiences of our nation, preserved in his epic calendric poems. Mythopoeitics and cosmopoeitics of our ancestors, no matter how is for the present generations, in the first place, the source of poetic inspirations, is also inexhaustible source of knowledge about ancient religion and culture, which requires constant need of test and examination, evaluation and reevaluation.
